Basic Instructor

Thank you for your interest in our Basic Instructor Course, a certified Krav Maga survival training to become an assistant trainer.

With the passing of the Basic Instructor you are entitled as a training assistant to graduate the students of your association of the levels 6.5 and 4. You are then entitled to found an association while you are training to become a full instructor. (As a full instructor, graduation from levels 3.2 and 1 is possible). You can do your own courses with your own team.

You can take part in our Basic Instructor course if you are at least 21 years old, you have at least 3 years of experience in martial arts, you have no entries in your certificate of good conduct and you have completed a first aid course.

We are at your side with a preparatory seminar on our premises or in one of our affiliated associations. If interested, also on site. A descriptive book on techniques and progression is available in any bookstore.

Our course lasts three days and runs from Friday afternoon to Sunday afternoon. The cost of the course is € 700 plus the cost of accommodation and meals. You can find an overview of hotels for overnight stays during the course here (please search in Hamburg Sasel): <https://www.hamburg.de/hotel/>. The annual club membership fee is € 200. This gives you a 30% discount on the Basic and Full Instructor courses. The association will provide you with advertising banners. Income from the graduation of your students remains in your association. (Suggested is 35, - € per graduation).

We have attached the contract and the registration form to you. The course fees are transferred to the account below no later than 10 days before the date.

If you pass the exam you will receive a Krav Maga Survival Certificate. The course can be repeated for free within 18 months, whether passed or failed.

We look forward to welcoming you to our Basic Instructor course.

Many greetings,
Your Krav Maga Survival Team
